

Because the variables of roasting coffee change from one home-roaster's setup to the next, the chart below does not reference time. Instead, percentages are used to provide a guided estimate of where the coffee will be during its roast. Much of this info can be found at <https://legacy.sweetmarias.com/library/content/using-sight-determine-degree-roast>

